

SEAWARD
ELECTRICAL SAFETY TESTING
& MEASURING.

What are the legal requirements for PAT in Scotland?

With regards to PAT testing in places of work, the legal requirements in Scotland are very similar to those that apply in the rest of the UK. Where Scottish law does differ is in the requirements relating to rented properties. Further guidance on this can be found in the Electrical Safety First publication specific to Testing Landlord Properties.

If you require more help, please contact us at <https://www.seaward.com/de/enquiry/>.